

Healthy Fundraising

What's wrong with candy sales?

Children's lifelong eating habits are greatly influenced by the types of foods and beverages available to them. When less healthy foods are sold "for a good cause", children may think that these foods are a healthful part of a balanced diet. Such misperceptions can contribute to development of poor eating habits. Schools and child care centers encourage healthy eating habits by avoiding fundraisers that rely on the sale of less healthy foods such as candy and cookies.

Benefits of Healthy Fundraising:

● Healthy kids learn better:

Research clearly demonstrates that good nutrition is linked to better behavior and academic performance. To provide the best possible learning environment for children, schools and child care centers must also provide an environment that supports healthy behaviors.

● Provides consistent messages:

Fundraising with healthy foods and non-food items demonstrates a commitment to promoting healthy behaviors. It supports the lessons children are learning about health, instead of contradicting them.

● Promotes a healthy school or child care environment:

Children need to receive consistent, reliable health information and ample opportunity to use it. Finding healthy fundraising alternatives is an important part of providing a healthy school or child care environment.

"What message does it send our children when we constantly preach to them about getting more exercise, eating healthy and cutting back on junk food and then ask them to sell truck loads of cookie dough and candy bars to friends and family?"
